

What part of "operating in the public interest" do you not understand?

If you were doing your job correctly, we would not even be having this exchange, because you would've already addressed the issue appropriately.

Now don't make me have to write to you again. It is not the best use of either of our time.